The Consciousness Quotient: Leadership and Social Justice for the 21st Century C. J. Cloutier

The Consciousness Quotient is an in-depth exploration of leadership as a phenomenon that affects ethics, morality, and social justice. The author uses a multidisciplinary approach, primarily based on Eastern and Western philosophy, science, and spirituality to create a hypothesis and model that are used to explain how leaders are able to make better decisions and alleviate social justice issues. The major themes discussed are the interrelationships between brain, mind, soul, and consciousness; brain functionality; leadership practices, decision-making and legitimacy of decisions; as well as systems and organizations.
